

Estates would like to see more homes here. We want to see those who own property in this tract join with those of us already living here in improving their property as soon as possible. Hence the printing of this story and the reproduction of a few photographs taken within the subdivision. As stated, we have nothing to sell, we are not in the real estate business. But because of the changes of circumstances or of plans since the tract was first sold out, there are owners of lots who desire to sell, and the officers of the Bloomfield Estates Improvement Association will be glad to assist in bringing together a prospective suburbanite and the owner of a lot he might select, if it is for sale.

We will welcome several families of the right sort of people. Yes, we are particular to the extent that we want to see the locality settled with regular human beings.
